IMPORTANT TIPS

- Never pour water directly into the base chamber. [Figure 2.1] Only add water to the water tank. The humidifier will automatically release the correct amount of water into the base chamber.
- Avoid moving or shaking the humidifier. [Figure 2.2] This may cause the water tank to release too much water into the base chamber.
- Before moving the humidifier, turn it off, unplug it, and remove the water tank.
- If your humidifier doesn't produce mist correctly, check the max water line [Figure 2.3] to see if there is too much water in the base chamber. Pour out any extra water if water is over the max line.

Note: The max water line is only for this purpose. Do not pour water into the base.
